About the property

What the owners love:

Tall ceilings? Check. Period features? Check. Outdoor space? Check. Parking? Check. Next to the country but close to the city? Double check. What's not to love?

This spacious Victorian flat has provided us with the best of both worlds. Within close walking distance to Hanwell station and the Grand Union Canal. Just a stone throw away from Osterley Gardens, Syon House as well as Ealing Broadway.

We first fell in love with this property due to its carefully preserved period charm, renovated to modern standards. Our Mediterranean background meant that the patio was perfect for having brunch on a spring day or drinks with friends on a summers evening. The back door opens fully to seamlessly connect the open plan living room and kitchen to the outside, ideal for entertaining. The large windows also ensured that even in winter, there is always natural light flooding in.
