About the property

What the owner loves...

This much loved home was bought by our parents in 1971, quite a leap of faith as we moved from a small cottage in Kew. They were not to be disappointed and went onto turn the house and garden into a very special family forever home. We kept bees in the garden and played table tennis and hide and seek in the large cellar. The house has been recently updated with the same love and care that our parents gave it and is now ready for a new chapter with a new family looking for that special forever home to make their own memories in.
